To whom it may concern,

I would like to say how displeased I was when I read the "penalties" that were imposed on Microsoft. Companies like IBM and ATT learned the hard way... monopolies are NOT in america's best interest.

But I guess times have changed, and laws can be bent! How Microsoft can have a SAY in what they will accept for penalties is outrageous. Found GUILTY, they must accept the ruling passed by a judge or jury.

I may not be seeing things correctly, from a legal point of view, but this is how the average american sees it!! Justice has NOT been served.
